

PATIENT RIGHTS & COMPLIANCE NOTICE

In accordance with Texas Health and Safety Code Section 181.105 (HB 4224)

At Hill Family Chiropractic, we are committed to protecting your privacy and ensuring you have full access to your health information and consumer rights. Under Texas law, you have the right to request your records, contact our licensing board, or file a consumer complaint.

1. How to Request Your Medical Records

You have the right to access and receive copies of your health care records. To request your records:

- Submit a Request: Please submit a written request in person at our clinic or email us at hillchiropractic@aol.com
- Form Required: You may be asked to fill out our standard Medical Records Release Form to verify your identity.
- Timeline: We will process and provide your records in accordance with Texas regulatory timelines.

2. Licensing and Disciplinary Authority Contact Information

Our chiropractors are licensed and regulated by the state of Texas. If you have questions, concerns, or inquiries regarding professional licensing and standards, you may contact our oversight board:

- Authority: Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners
- Address: 1801 Congress Avenue, Suite 10.500, Austin, TX 78701
- Phone: (512) 305-6700

3. How to File a Consumer Complaint

If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, or if you have a complaint regarding the care or services received, you have the right to file an official consumer complaint:

- File with the Board: You can file a formal complaint directly with the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners Complaint Page.
- File with the State: You may also file a consumer complaint through the Texas Attorney General Consumer Protection Division.
